The Next Chapter Canvas: For Me

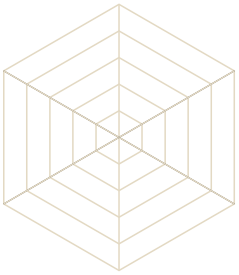

A quiet hour, a cup of tea and this page. Work through it in order, be honest with your scores and keep your next steps small enough to start this week.

Name _____ Date _____

01 Where I Am Now

Score each part of your life today, from 1 (it needs real attention) to 5 (it is going well). There are no right answers, only honest ones.

Purpose and Meaning	1	2	3	4	5
Work and Career	1	2	3	4	5
Skills and Growth	1	2	3	4	5
Relationships and Support	1	2	3	4	5
Health and Energy	1	2	3	4	5
Money and Security	1	2	3	4	5

What stands out when you look at your scores?

02 What I Want

Picture yourself a year from now, with things having gone well.

Describe a good day a year from now. Where are you, who is with you and what are you doing?

What is different from today?

How will you know you are on the right path? Name three signs.

03 What I Bring

You are starting with more than you think.

Your strengths: what do people count on you to do well?

The people in your corner, and how each one could help

Resources you already have: time, money, skills, places and networks

04 What Could Get in the Way

Red team your own plan. Looking for the weak spots now is how you make the plan stronger.

Inner obstacles: the thoughts, habits or fears that get in your way

Outer obstacles: time, money, logistics or other people

Imagine it is a year from now and this did not work. What went wrong?

What are you assuming that might not be true?

05 My Next Moves

Small, specific and started soon beats big and someday.

Three small steps that would move you forward

The one step you will take in the next 48 hours

Who will you ask for help, and what will you ask them?

How will you celebrate progress?

06 My Check-In

Come back to this page in a month, score yourself again and notice what moved.

The date you will check in

A note to your future self
